BURGERY WITH A WHITE-HOT WIRE. A Caucorous Growth Removed from the Base of Mr. Shipley's Tongue.

Newark physicians are watching with great interest the recovery of Alfred J. Shipley of 31 James street. He submitted to the appli cation of galvano-cautery late in November for the removal of a cancer which involved nearly one-half of the right side of his tongue, and is now convalencent, and is prevented from exercising his vocal powers to their full extent only by restrictions put upon him by his medical advisers. He can articulate plainly, but he is warned not to speak except when speech is positively necessary. On July 1 Mr. Shipley first noticed a pain on the left side of the root is positively necessary. On July 1 Mr. Shipley first noticed a pain on the left side of the root of his tongue, but he did not worry about it until the pain became excruciating and he encountered difficulty in swallowing. Then he called in his family physician, Dr. Milton Haldwin, who remarked. I guess you are a Grant man." and told him that the trouble was caused by a cancer known as epithelioms. Dr. Baidwin took the patient to the German Hospital, where a consultation was held, and cutting out the cancer was pronounced to be a dangerous operation. Mr. Shipley was sent home.

Dr. Baidwin then laid the case before the Newark Medical Association, and it was suggested that the cancer might be removed successfully by galwano-cautery. It was resolved to try this plan, and on Nov. 23 Mr. Shipley was placed under the influence of chioroform at his house, and in the presence of nine physicians the operation was performed. A needle threaded with slik was passed through the tongue, and that member was drawn out of the mouth as far as possible. Then the base of the cancer was encircled with a loop of fine platinum wire, which was held in place by pins thrust through the cancerous growth. When everything was ready a current from a powerful battery was sent through the platinum wire, heating it to incandescence. For an instant the interior of the patient's mouth glowed with white light. Then the loop was drawn forward, and the glowing wire cut rapidly through the base of the cancerous growth, leaving a blood ess wound in its track. The cancer when removed was as thick and as long as a man's thumb. Two days afterward Mr. Shipley was ablood est in a chair and take liquid food with confort,

TWO MURDER TRIALS.

Minor John Smith Killed with a Corn Hook

DOVER, N. J., Jan. 9 .- The trial of Daniel O'Connell for the killing of John Smith, on Sept. 30, will be begun in the Morris County Court to-morrow. He kept a saloon on Mine Hill, and the miners, in going and coming from work, used to cross a lot belonging to him. Late in the afternoon of the day named O'Connell appeared at the office of the Dickerson mine and asked to have a physician called by telephone. John Smith, a very muscular by telephone. John Smith, a very muscular young miner, was found in an unconscious condition near the path in O'Conneil's lot, with his dinner path hear his side. In his head was a wound two inches wide, and there was a corresponding gap in his leathern miner's hat. O'Conneil said Smith was crossing the lot and he ordered him to go back, which Smith refused to do. Some words followed, when Smith struck him, partly knocking him down. O'Conneil said he raised up with a corn hook in his hand and Smith ran upon it. But the fact is that a terrible blow was struck. The corn hook was driven through the hat, skull, and more than half way through the head. Smith died before a physician arrived. It was apposed that O'Conneil was the only living witness, but it has been discovered that two women and a girl witnessed the occurrence. What they will testify to is unknown, and is a matter of much speculation.

A week from to-morrow Lottie Pruden of Chester, who is 17 years of age, will be placed on trial in the same court for the murder of her infaut. Orphaned early in life she was adopted by an uncle. Bright and vivacious, but withal very modest, she was a general favorite with all the villagers. A little more than a year ago she began to keep the company of a skating ripk manager, who deserted her later and left per to bear the burden of her shame. It is said the child was strangled with a stocking that was found knotted tightly about its neck. When the body was discovered concealed in a beddick, theyoung mother attempted suicide by taking polson, and nearly succeeded. young miner, was found in an unconscious to be Interested with Contractors for whom In Newark, Cashler Oscar Baldwin's

chances of getting out of State prison on points of law are regarded as very slim. It is thought the question of cumulative sentences will not be pressed very far, as such sentences are pertectly legal in New Jersey. The plea that he has been subjected to hard labor since his incarceration, and that such labor is not contemplated in sentences for crimes such as his, is answered in the provisions made by the United States statute of Jun-30, 1834, that all United States prisoners confined in any prison or penitentiary must be subjected to the discip-

States prisoners confined in any prison or penitentiary must be subjected to the discipline of the prison.

Castier Baldwin's share of the hard labor in the Trenton State prison has been keeping books for a contractor who is his personal friend, and the question has frequently been asked, and never satisfactorily answered, whether Baldwin was not pecuniarily interested in this contract. The contracting firm is John Tobin & Co., and the work now done by the prisoners upon this contract is manufacturing coarse spirits on the piece-price pian. The contract was taken about the time of Baldwin's sentence, and the work at that time was the manufacture of rubber clocks for adies, It is said bat $90,000 worth of goods were manufactured on this contract in the first year.

"Capl' their i. Cap." said Rafferty. "Times have changed, and, as we need to say at school, et nos muldmar in tills, which means i ain't as good a man as I used to be."

Locomotive 147 did not have enough steam to drag its down train of five cars faster than a snail's nacup the grades between Ninety-eighth and Eighty-nini streets and Seventy-sixth and Sixty-seventh streets, or Third arenus, resterday forenoon. The train reached Ninth street station about ten minutes late, and at Houston street another train steed still, disabled. The draw bar of the second motor, No. 170, had pulled our, and there was nothing to do bus have the suck train push the lame train slowly on. At the and street Locomotive 17 was detached and pushed the disabled train into the pocket at Chatham square. Then it called its own train to Chatham square fifteen minutes behind time.

A report that it is the Pennsylvania Railroad Company which, through Charles B. Thurston, has Company which, through Charles B. Thurston, has bought $830,000 worth of property at the foot of West Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth streets, to be used for a fright depot and yards, is contradicted. Mr. Thurston was too ill yesterday at his home on Jersey Rity Heights to see a reporter. A friend said that not the Ponnsylvania Relational, but a syndicate in which Mr. Thurston was interested, had purchased the property. The syndicate was not ready set to tell its plans. The and was still in lease and could not be used by the purchasers for some time to come.

The Mail Got Through All Right.

Postman Hugh J. Bolan arrested the women, and forwarded Horris's larg of mail to Pest Office Station E. The women were discharged yesterday.

A case of a person having measles for the third time was recently reported in THE SUR. Inquiry shows such a case to be rare, but by no means unpr shows such a case to be rare, but by no means impre-cedented. An instance is known of a patient failing a victim to measles for the fourth time. As with measles, so with other consistons discase which most people have but once. There is a physician in this city who has had small-pex these times, and there are a number of people who have had it twice. Another physician has had scrifet fever three times, and now cannot al-tend a small-pox patient without getting a sore throat.

With Fifty Years' Interest.

Fifty years ago Jean Pappl died in this city. leaving his brother. Louis Pappi, sole executer and sole legalee. Louis knew nothing of a deposit of $50 that legalee. Louis knew nothing of a denosit of $50 that was in the Illeccker Street Savings Bank, and the money has remained there unclaimed. Louis Panel died in Elderado county, California in 1850. Recently another brother, Agustian Papisi of 46 West. Thirty-sixth street, heard of the unclaimed denosit, and took out letters of adminstration, which were granted by Surrogate Rolling, for the purpose of recovering the money in the bank, which now amounts to over $400.

Apollinaris "THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS."

Dr. JOHN C. PETERS, of Madison Avenue, says :

"There is another matter that has much to do with the health of a city, and that is its water. We doctors sometimes think it unwise to be perfectly frank with our patients, but I have no doubt that in the vast majority of the cases of typhoid that have been so numerous, each patient has swallowed water that was contaminated with the leakage of drains or cesspools. Without desiring to be an alarmist I further say that Croton water is not entirely free from this."
